

*Sea-fare, Sea-fair:
All-inclusive Pricing*

We're not shy about saying that Nautical School is the best value in maritime licensing—simply because it is.

Here's one big reason: The OUPV program is priced at $699.00 with absolutely no hidden costs or fees. Most other schools charge $800.00—and more—for the training course and test.

➤ Destination: Anywhere

Aye, Captain.

So you've probably imagined yourself standing at the helm of a sea-going vessel. Maybe you're already an avid boater, maybe not...just yet. Whatever the case, you'll want to pilot your craft filled with the confidence and knowledge that comes with having your Captain's License. And you'll not only command the respect of the maritime community, you'll also be equipped with the skills to carry passengers and journey to the destination of your choosing—and even to make your living on the water. No matter what your intentions, adventure and challenge await. And the perfect place to launch your personal voyage is at Nautical School.

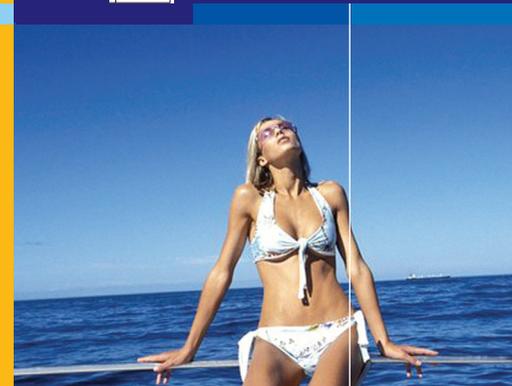

The Nautical School also utilizes unique learning tools including online practice tests that you can take from home or anywhere with online access. In addition, we provide an informational/reference CD containing the “Rules of the Road,” and a complete textbook created specially for the Nautical School curriculum. Both of these are yours to keep and use as valuable resources throughout your maritime career.

Voyage: Course of Study

What's your heading? Once you embark at Nautical School, you'll probably set a course towards your Operator of Uninspected Passenger Vessels (OUPV) 6-pack Captain's License (although we also offer many other courses, including the Masters Upgrade.) You'll learn everything you need to become a proficient Captain through a USCG approved curriculum taught in state-of-the-art facilities. It's there you'll acquire a thorough understanding of critical areas of knowledge ranging from boating rules to navigation to weather and even the mechanical systems of boats.

Ports of Call: Maritime Careers

Where can you go with your credentials earned at Nautical School? Well, just about anywhere your ambition—and the sea—takes you. Aside from the recognition gained by earning your Captain's License, you can launch a career piloting pleasure boats and ferries, transport vessels, fishing boats and water taxis, just to name a few. You can even start your own sea-based business. Just look toward the horizon. The possibilities stretch as far as the eye can see.
